Dear Supporters:

First and foremost, we are hoping that this letter finds you and your families well. Even though we may have never met in person, please know that you remain very important to us as it is your generosity that directly contributes to the success of our recipients as they work toward achieving their certificates and/or diplomas and ultimately become self-reliant.

Many of our grant recipients pursue nursing and other health care careers. The heroism and selflessness of health care workers during this pandemic has been profound. We, the board of directors, share your support for all health care workers and empathize with you, as well as our applicants. It's a very difficult time right now and we are all in this together, trying to venture through these uncharted waters.

Since January 2020, Lost Coin has awarded $38,275 to deserving young women. We have continued meeting via Zoom and are working hard to get these women what they need in order to start or complete their academic programs. We are committed to helping these women in need.

At a recent board of directors meeting, we voted to postpone our annual silent auction, usually held the first Sunday in December. This fundraiser is our main fundraising event but based on CDC guidelines, we don't feel that it's safe to continue our plans. The COVID-19 crisis has greatly affected non-profit organizations. If you share our commitment to low-income women, and to those of you who can, please consider a gift to help Lost Coin through this fraught time.

There are brighter days ahead. We thank you for your past support and we hope you will consider helping us rise to these difficult times.

Sincerely,
LCWF Board of Directors,

Natalie Byrne
